155 When election void owing to corrupt or illegal practices

Subject to sections one hundred and forty-eight, one hundred and fifty-six and one hundred and fifty-seven—

- (a) if upon the trial of an election petition the Electoral Court declares that any electoral malpractice has been committed with reference to the election the subject of the petition, by or with the knowledge and consent or approval of the candidate returned at that election, or by or with the knowledge and consent or approval of any of his or her agents, and the effect of such practice was, in the opinion of the Electoral Court, such as to have materially affected the outcome of that election, the election of that candidate shall be void, and a fresh election shall thereupon be held;
- [Paragraph amended by Act 17 of 2007]
- (b) if a candidate or his or her chief election agent is found at the said trial to have committed any electoral malpractice that candidate or agent may be declared by the Electoral Court to be incapable, for a period not exceeding five years from the date of the finding, of—
- (i) being registered as a voter or of voting at an election; or
 - (ii) filling a public office, other than a public office the tenure of which is regulated exclusively by or in terms of the Constitution, and, if he or she holds any such office, the Electoral Court may declare that that office shall be vacated by him or her as from the date of the finding.

[Paragraph amended by Act 17 of 2007]

156 When election not void

When upon the trial of an election petition the Electoral Court finds that a candidate at the election the subject of the petition has been guilty by his or her agent of an electoral malpractice with reference to that election, and the candidate has proved to the satisfaction of the Electoral Court that—

- (a) no electoral malpractice was committed at that election by the candidate himself or herself or by his or her chief election agent and that the offences mentioned in the said finding were committed without the sanction or connivance of the candidate or his or her chief election agent; and
- [Paragraph amended by Act 17 of 2007]
- (b) the candidate and his or her chief election agent took all reasonable precautions for preventing the commission of electoral malpractices, corrupt practices and illegal practices at that election; and
- [Paragraph amended by Act 17 of 2007]

then the election of that candidate shall not, by reason of the offences mentioned in the finding, be void, nor shall the candidate or the chief election agent be subjected to any incapacity under this Act.

157 When Electoral Court may hold certain acts or omissions to be exempt from provisions of this Act

- (1) When it appears to the Electoral Court, either on application or upon an election petition, that—
- (a) any act or omission of a candidate at an election or of his or her chief election agent or of another agent or person, which but for this section would be an illegal practice, has been done or made in good faith through inadvertence or accidental miscalculation or some other reasonable cause of a like nature; and
 - (b) by reason of the circumstances it would be just that the candidate or his or her chief election agent or other agent or person, or any of them, should not be subject to any of the consequences under this Act of the said act or omission;

the Electoral Court may make an order allowing the act or omission to be an exception from the provisions of this Act which would otherwise make the act or omission an illegal practice, and thereupon the candidate, agent or person shall not be subject to any of the consequences under this Act of the said act or omission.

(2) Where application is made for relief in terms of subsection (1), the Electoral Court, before hearing the application, shall be satisfied that reasonable notice of the application has been given in the constituency or area in which the election was held.

158 Hearing of person accused of corrupt practice or illegal practice

Before any person, not being a party to an election petition or a candidate on behalf of whom the seat is claimed by an election petition, is found by the Electoral Court to have been guilty of any electoral malpractice, the Electoral Court shall cause notice to be given to such person and, if he or she appears in pursuance of the notice, shall give him or her an opportunity of being heard and of calling evidence to show why no such finding should be recorded against him or her.

[Subsection amended by Act 17 of 2007]

159 Finding on charge of electoral malpractice

Any person charged with—

- (a) a corrupt practice may, if the circumstances warrant such a finding, be found guilty of an intimidatory practice or an illegal practice;
- (b) an intimidatory practice may, if the circumstances warrant such a finding, be found guilty of a corrupt practice or an illegal practice;

(2) Notwithstanding subsection (1), no legal proceedings shall be maintainable by any person licensed to sell intoxicating liquor or by the owner or keeper of any shop or place of entertainment against a candidate or an election agent of a candidate for any liquor, food or refreshment of any kind supplied upon the credit of such candidate or agent during the progress of an election, except in respect of such liquor, food or refreshment as may have been supplied to the candidate or his or her chief election agent for their personal consumption, the payment whereof is under this Act part of the personal expenses allowed to the candidate.

- (a) if the Electoral Court finds that the election of the respondent was due to a mistake or improper performance or failure of performance of any function bona fide made by any member of the Public Service or employee of the Commission, it may, after sufficient notice to the Minister or the Commission, as the case may be, to show cause to the contrary, make such order as to the payment from the Consolidated Revenue Fund or the funds of the Commission, as the case may be, of the costs of the action or portion thereof as it thinks fit;
- (b) if the Electoral Court finds that the election of the respondent was due to a mistake or improper performance or failure of performance of any function mala fide made by any member of the Public Service or employee of the Commission, it may, after sufficient notice to such member or employee, as the case may be, to show cause to the contrary, make such order as to the payment by such member or employee of the costs of the action or portion thereof as it thinks fit.

[Subsection amended by Act 17 of 2007]

(2) If any witness fully answers to the satisfaction of the Electoral Court every question relating to any matter mentioned in subsection (1) which he or she is required by the High Court to answer, and the answer to which may incriminate or tend to incriminate him or her, he or she shall be absolutely freed and discharged from all liability to prosecution, either at the public instance or at the instance of any private party, for any offence under this Act, committed by him or her prior to the time that the witness gave his or her evidence and at or in relation to the election concerned or in relation to which the witness may have been so examined, and the witness shall be entitled to receive from the Electoral Court under the hand of the registrar thereof a certificate stating that he or she is so freed and discharged from all liability to prosecution as aforesaid.

EIGHTH SCHEDULE (SECTION 45C(5) AND 45I(1))PART I

GENERAL DESCRIPTION OF PROPORTIONAL REPRESENTATION FORMULA USED IN PART XI AND EXAMPLES

[Schedule inserted by Act 6 of 2014]

PART I

GENERAL DESCRIPTION OF PROPORTIONAL REPRESENTATION FORMULA USED IN PART XIA

1. In this Schedule, “participating party” means a political party that has nominated party-list candidates for the Senate, National Assembly or (non-metropolitan) provincial council as the case may be.

2. The provincial elections officer shall, after determining the number of votes which have been cast for each of the candidates of the participating parties in the constituencies within the electoral province —

- (a) ascertain the total number of votes cast for the participating parties; and
- (b) allocate in accordance with paragraph (3) to the participating parties, seats in the Senate, National Assembly or provincial council as the case may be.

3. A quota shall be determined by dividing the total number of votes obtained by those participating parties for that electoral province which have not been eliminated in terms of paragraph (2)(b) by the number of seats being contested namely—

- (a) six in respect of the Senate;
- (b) six in respect of the National Assembly;
- (c) ten in respect of a provincial council.

4. The number of seats to be allocated to each participating party shall be determined in two stages as follows—

- (a) in the first stage, each political party is allocated a seat for each number of votes that constitute the quota;
- (b) in the second stage, if after the allocation determined in terms of paragraph (a), the number of seats allocated to the participating parties is—
 - (i) less than the number of seats being contested by one seat, allocate that seat to the participating party with the greatest number of unallocated votes;
 - (ii) less than the number of seats being contested by two or more seats, allocate the seats to an equal number of participating parties determined in the order of the party having the greatest number of unallocated votes.

PART II

NATIONAL ASSEMBLY ELECTIONS (EXAMPLE)

1. A party that has not filed a party-list nomination for election to the National Assembly is not eligible to be allocated seats in the National Assembly.

2. Parties that nominated party-list candidates are referred to below as “participating parties”. In this example, seven parties, A, B, C, D, E, F and G are the parties that nominated party-list candidates for the National Assembly elections. The electoral district has three constituencies namely X, Y and Z.

3. The provincial elections officer must list the participating parties on a table similar to the one in the example below, starting with the party that received the most votes and ending with the party that received the least and showing the votes cast for the participating parties in each of the constituencies. In this example, 236 634 votes were cast for the participating parties as shown below.

Party	Number of votes per constituency			Total number of votes
	X	Y	Z
A	32 049	16 000	41 300	89 349
B	25 000	17 069	7 800	49 869
C	20 040	10 007	10 500	40 547
D	15 020	7 040	10 004	32 064
E	12 030	8 012	1 900	21 942
F	325	425	903	1 653
G	205	404	601	1 210
Total	104 669	58 957	73 008	236 634

Party A received a total of 89 349 votes in the three constituencies which constitute the electoral district.

4. Next, the provincial elections officer must determine the quota by dividing the total number of votes cast for the participating parties by the number six (the number of seats) with any fraction obtained being disregarded.

In this example, the quota is 39 439 (236 634 divided by 6).

5. Next, the number of votes cast for each of the remaining political parties is divided by the quota to determine the number of seats to be provisionally allocated to each party and to ascertain the number of votes which remain unallocated thereafter as shown below.

Party	Total number of votes	Votes divided by quota
		Provisional allocation of seats	Unallocated votes
A	89 349	2	10 471
B	49 869	1	10 430
C	40 547	1	1 108
D	32 064		32 064
E	21 942		21 942
F	1 653		1 653
G	1 210		1 210
Total	236 634	4	78 878

Quota: 39 439

In respect of party A, 89 349 divided by the quota of 39 439 gives two seats which are equal to 78 878 votes leaving a remainder of 10 471 unallocated votes. The provisional allocation of seats is A 2, B 1 and C 1, a total of four seats, leaving two of the six seats unallocated.

6. Next, if after the allocation of the seats from the division of the votes cast by the quota, less than ten seats have been allocated, the provincial elections officer will allocate the remaining seats to the parties with the greatest number of unallocated votes.

In this example, the two parties with the highest number of unallocated votes are D with 32 064 and E with 21 942. The two remaining seats are allocated one each to the two parties as shown below.

Party	Number of votes	Votes divided by quota		Seats from unallocated votes
		Provisional allocation of seats	Unallocated votes
A	89 349	2	10 471
B	49 869	1	10 430
C	40 547	1	1 108
D	32 064		32 064	1
E	21 942		21 942	1
F	1 653		1 653
G	1 210		1 210
Total	236 634	4	78 878	2

7. The provincial elections officer will then declare the final allocation of seats.

In this example A is allocated 2, B 1, C 1 and D 1 and E 1 as shown below.

Party	Number of votes	Votes divided by quota		Seats from unallocated votes	Final allocation of seats
		Provisional allocation of seats	Unallocated votes
A	89 349	2	10 471		2
B	49 869	1	10 430		1

D	32 064		32 064	1	1
E	21 942		21 942	1	1
F	1 653		1 653
G	1 210		1 210
Total	236 634	4	78 878	2	6

F	1 653		1 653
G	1 210		1 210
Total	236 634	4	78 878

Quota: 39 439

Part IV

PROVINCIAL COUNCIL ELECTIONS (EXAMPLE)

1. A party that has not filed a party-list nomination for election to the provincial council is not eligible to be allocated seats in the provincial council.

2. Parties that nominated party-list candidates are referred to below as “participating parties”. In this example, seven parties, A, B, C, D, E, F and G are the parties that nominated party-list candidates for the provincial council elections. The electoral district has three constituencies namely X, Y and Z.

3. The provincial elections officer must list the participating parties on a table similar to the one in the example below, starting with the party that received the most votes and ending with the party that received the least and showing the votes cast for the participating parties in each of the constituencies. In this example, 236 634 votes were cast for the participating parties as shown below.

Party	Number of votes per constituency			Total number of votes
	X	Y	Z

Total	104 669	58 957	73 008	236 634

Party A received a total of 89 349 votes in the three constituencies which constitute the electoral district.

4. Next, the provincial elections officer must determine the quota by dividing the total number of votes cast for the participating parties by the number ten (the number of seats) with any fraction obtained being disregarded.

In this example, the quota is 23 663 (236 634 divided by 10).

5. Next, the number of votes cast for each of the remaining political parties is divided by the quota to determine the number of seats to be provisionally allocated to each party and to ascertain the number of votes which remain unallocated thereafter as shown below.

Party	Total number of votes	Votes divided by quota
		Provisional allocation of seats	Unallocated votes

F	1 653		1 653
G	1 210		1 210
Total	236 634	7	70 993

Quota: 23 663

In respect of party A, 89 349 divided by the quota of 23 663 gives three seats which are equal to 70 989 votes leaving a remainder of 18 360 unallocated votes. The provisional allocation of seats is A 3, B 2, C 1 and D1, a total of seven seats, leaving three of the ten seats unallocated.

6. Next, if after the allocation of the seats from the division of the votes cast by the quota, less than ten seats have been allocated, the provincial elections officer will allocate the remaining seats to the parties with the greatest number of unallocated votes.

In this example, the two parties with the highest number of unallocated votes are E with 21 942, A with 18 360 and C with 16 884. The three remaining seats are allocated one each to the three parties as shown below.

Party	Number of votes	Votes divided by quota		Seats from unallocated votes
